Principal sir's welcoming speech

Dr. Pritha Pandit (RoyChowdhury) then requested Dr. Debnath to deliver his speech about the workshop. Principal sir gave his welcome speech and whole heartily welcomed all participants of the workshop.

After that, registrar of COOCH BEHAR PANCHANAN BARMA UNIVERSITY was invited on the podium to utter his speech. In his speech he said he felt proud to meet all the participators from different college including the organizing committee of COOCH BEHAR COLLEGE. He regretted in front of the everyone as because of his load of works he was actually unable to attend the workshop for the three consecutive days.

Dr. Amal kumar Horh, registrar of Cooch Behar Panchanan Barma University

Dr. Pinaki Roy, controller of COOCH BEHAR PANCHANAN BARMA UNIVERSITY was requested to deliver his opinion about the Faculty Development Programme. He said that a Faculty Development Programme is always required to organize so as to brush up them and to upgrade them with the sudden rapid growth of the modern technology.

Mr. Masud introducing LaTeX

After that, Mr. Masud was requested on the dias to say something. He introduced himself and gave a brief introduction about the spoken tutorial. He articulated the actual meaning of this SPOKEN TUTORIAL. He said that it is a course which is absolutely free of cost and is open source. As because it is open source so anyone can access their e-materials with absolutely no cost.

He introduced the necessity of the usage of the technological invention of a typesetting language “LaTeX”, which should be pronounced as “LAH TECH”.

Necessity brings inventions. Earlier a computer scientist faced huge trouble to publish his paper. From that time a Language called “TeX”(pronounced TECH) was created but due its difficulty it did not get a success which evolved the new expansion of the language named “LaTeX” .

LaTeX is a markup language which provides many facilities to the programmer to use necessary commands to draw layout of a document. The LaTeX interpreter reads in a LaTeX Marked-up-file, renders the content into a document and dumps it a new file.

Mr. Masud continued his training for 3 days with hands-on experience. He taught the participators how to install the MikTeX software. Then step by step he proceeded with how to write a command on the editor and how to write an article and a report.

Prof. Somnath Saha, HOD computer science department, Mr. Dibyendu Dey, faculty of CS department and Mr. Koushik Das , faculty of mathematics department of COOCH BEHAR COLLEGE assisted him and gave their full aid to all the participators .

All the spoken tutorial materials were supplied to all the members of the workshop which was found to be very much beneficial in self learning.

On the last day Mr. Koushik Das, department of Mathematics(Cooch Behar college) sat for giving training on advance learning of the language LaTeX. He taught the learners very efficiently.

Mr. Somnath Saha, computer Science Department, COOCH BEHAR COLLEGE taught the whole procedure to register on the IIT Bombay’s Spoken Tutorial website . He said the necessity of being registered to their site.

After all these teaching and learning process, the were started.

Faculties of total twelve colleges and a university participated in that free cost software training workshop. Our Principal sir, Dr. Pankaj Kumar Debnath was requested to honor the faculty participators of various Mahavidyalaya one by one.
