Sir/Madam,

Sub:- IIT Mumbai's Spoken Tutorial-Utilizing the remote training facility in Kerala Agricultural University-reg

The IIT Mumbai has started a Spoken Tutorial Project (A Govt. of India funded project) with an objective to inculcate IT / Software skills through online mode to the students of various Universities, Institutes and Polytechnics. Hon'ble Chancellor has desired that every student in the University system should be encouraged to avail this facility. Our Hon'ble Vice Chancellor has also given directions in this regard. This spoken tutorial is purely on online mode and without affecting the regular studies of the students. The course is free of cost for KAU and all the students can learn IT software that will increase their employability. This facility can be availed by utilizing their free time. To facilitate this at college level, all the colleges under KAU have nominated a coordinator each. We were about to start implementation of this programme.

Now, It is informed by Mr. Vinu Thomas Joseph, the Training Manager, IIT Bombay ST Software Courses Training Program that since colleges are closed down due to COVID-19 issues, IIT Bombay team is guiding and helping University to keep their department students engage by referring them to learn Spoken Tutorial courses. During these special times when the students are at home, the faculty members can engage them with remote learning through spoken tutorials. They can learn with the tutorials, download the software and do practicals as well. The students can do courses from the syllabus or any other courses which they are interested in. Hence, it is requested to go through the attached instructions and share them with your students urgently. This can be utilised by the faculty members as well. This special program is valid during the Covid 19 lock down period only.
